INGREDIENTS

1x2x3x

To make the soup

- ☐ 5 tomatoes quartered
- ☐ 3 carrots sliced into chunks
- ☐ ½ red bell pepper sliced roughly
- ☐ 1 red onion roughly chopped
- ☐ 4 cloves garlic
- ☐ ½ teaspoon red pepper flakes
- ☐ kosher salt to taste
- ☐ 1 tablespoon avocado oil
- ☐ 1½ cup vegetable stock
- ☐ basil leaves for garnish
- ☐ 1 tablespoon heavy cream for garnish, optional

To make the croutons

- ☐ 2 slices sourdough bread or any bread of your choice, cut into cubes
- ☐ 1 teaspoon avocado oil
- ☐ ½ teaspoon red pepper flakes
- ☐ ½ teaspoon garlic powder
- ☐ ½ teaspoon dried basil leaves

INSTRUCTIONS

To make the soup:

- Preheat your oven to 350F/180C. Quarter the tomatoes, peel and roughly chop the carrots and onions, roughly chop the bell peppers.
- Add all the veggies to a baking dish. Drizzle the oil and sprinkle salt and red pepper flakes. Toss to coat and roast in the preheated oven for 30-40 minutes or until the veggies are slightly charred on the outside.
- If using an immersion blender to puree the soup, transfer the veggies to a heavy bottomed pot and add in the vegetable stock. Puree until your desired consistency is achieved. I like my soup slightly chunky. If using a regular blender transfer the roasted veggies to the blender and puree. Then pour this puree into a heavy bottomed pot along with the vegetable stock. Heat the soup until warmed through and adjust seasoning if needed.

To make the croutons:

- Heat oil in a frying pan on medium-low heat and toss the bread pieces to coat. Toast them evenly in the pan for around 10 minutes or until light brown and nicely crisp on all sides. Add in the garlic powder, pepper flakes and dried basil and toss together.
- Serve the soup while its hot. Top it with a drizzle of heavy cream, croutons and freshly chopped basil leaves and enjoy!
